

Call for Local Vendors!

Arizona Center for Nature Conservation at South Mountain Park is looking for local artisans to participate in a holiday shopping area during our free community event, South Mountain Aglow. We had over 500 participants our first year and are anticipated many more this year.

Vendor Requirements

- Must be locally crafted products
- Items that would be considered last-minute gifts such as stocking stuffers and edible treats are likely to be the most successful for sales
- Food vendors must carry a commercial license
- $50 fee includes a 10'x5' indoor space, one (1) six-foot table and two (2) chairs
- Application can be found online at: <https://goo.gl/forms/SHYWLIldLpsFqz1Rn2>

Center

Join the South Mountain Environmental Education Center (SMEEC) for the second-annual South Mountain Aglow as we light up the darkest night of the year, the Winter Solstice! Venture along a beautiful one-mile, luminaria stroll along our Judith Tunell sidewalk trail featuring 3,000 decorated bags by community groups, local artists and schools. This year's family-friendly event also includes live musical performances, a local art shopping area, our make-n-take nature craft station, participatory art opportunity, a raffle and local food trucks.
